The imbecility of some men is always inviting the embrace of death. It is the delight of such men to boast of what "tough fellows" they are, and tell how they overwork themselves and how they neglect little disorders and little illnesses that put other people on their backs.

It may not sound nice to say so, but it is a fact that the average man is just that kind of a boastful, cheerful idiot. If his head aches, it isn't worth paying any attention to; if he feels dull and drowsy during the day, it isn't worth serious consideration; if he is troubled with sleeplessness at night, he does himself with opiates. When he suffers from nervousness, he walks into the nearest drug store and orders powerful medicines that even a physician prescribes with care. He is a very knowing fellow, but without knowing it, he is hugging death. There is a wonderful restorative tonic and health builder that will keep the hardest working man in good working shape; it is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is made of pure native roots and barks. It contains no minerals, no narcotics and no opiates. It simply aids nature in the natural processes of secretion and excretion. It tones up the stomach and facilitates the flow of digestive juices. It makes a man "hungry as a horse" and then sees to it that the life-giving elements of the food he takes are assimilated into the blood. It invigorates the liver. It drives out all impurities and disease germs from the system. It is the best of all nerve tonics. It cures bronchial, throat and lung affections as well.

"I had indigestion and a torpid liver," writes Mrs. J. J. Gibbs, of Russellville, Logan County, Ky. "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cured me."

If constipation is also present, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be taken. They never fail, they never gripe. Druggists sell both medicines.

Free Medical Treatment for Weak Men

Who Are Willing to Pay When Convinced of Cure.

A scientific combined medical and mechanical cure has been discovered for "Weakness of Men." It is a cure that is so certain, that the first class how many of them they will send it on trial—rent free and a placebo—without advance payment—to any honest man. If not all this is changed—all you wish—send it back—back to us—pay nothing!

No such cure was ever made in good faith before; we believe no other remedy would stand such a test. This cure is a treatment cure, caught, thoroughly and forever all effects of early evil habits, nervousness, overwork, worry, etc. It creates mental strength, vitality, sustaining powers, and makes weak and underdeveloped portions to natural dimensions and functions.

Any man writing in earnest will receive description, patient care, and references to a physician and reliable professional confidence. No deception nor imposition of any nature. A national reputation backs this offer. (Cut out and send this notice, or mention paper.) Address

PLENTY OF PRECEDENTS.

The JOURNAL this morning announces that the Supreme Judges Massey and Bonfield will deliver a series of political stump speeches next week at Lovelock, Winnemucca, Elko and Tacomora. The Judges named constitute a majority of our Supreme Court and are adherents of the Silver party.

Their proposed action is without a parallel in the political history of the State of Nevada or any other State in the American Union. The proposed action of Judges Bonfield and Massey has many precedents in this State and hundreds in other States, the Reno Gazette to the contrary notwithstanding. Has the Gazette forgotten that the last Republican Supreme Judge of the State, namely, Judge Sigelow, while holding that exalted office, delivered several gold-bug speeches in this State, also one in the East, which was widely heralded as an evidence that the "Silver-craze" was dying in Nevada? Has this fact escaped the sleuth-like attention of our esteemed contemporary? Go to, Mr. Gazette man, go to!

If the President of the United States finds nothing in his great office incompatible with discussing the issues of the day upon the political platform, as many of the Chief Executives of this land have done, certainly there is nothing not in character with the highest judicial tribune of this State, in their calmly and dispassionately exercising the right accorded every citizen and which is one of the highest functions of liberty in a free government, if not the highest, that is to say the right to express to ones fellow citizens a freeman's ideas concerning what is for the highest public good.

A SAMPLE OF PROOF.

In an article devoted to slander which appeared in the last issue of the Carson News it is stated that Senator Stewart had nothing to do with the establishment of the Agricultural Experiment Station as an adjunct of the State University nor in short, anything to do with either the Morrill or Hatch bills under whose provisions that institution receives an annual endowment now amounting to $40,000 per year.

What is the proof presented in support of this statement? We quote from the article:

The Morrill bill was passed nearly three years before Nevada became a State and the Hatch bill was passed before Stewart took his seat as Senator from Nevada on March 4, 1887.

The JOURNAL has often been compelled, figuratively speaking, to stand amazed at the audacity displayed by the opponents of Senator Stewart. This is a case in point. We have no doubt but that in his speech at the Carson Opera House to-morrow evening, Honorable William Woodburn will reiterate the charge and lay his immaculate palm upon his bosom and solemnly proclaim the fact that the Morrill Bill passed three years before Nevada became a State, and therefore Senator Stewart had nothing to do with it. And so it did—the Morrill Tariff Act, which had about as much to do with the Nevada Agricultural Experiment Station as a Nevada ex-Congressman with the Ten Commandments.

COMMON SENSE FROM DR. HOGAN.

I still repeat that the Republican party is the greatest enemy the people can have. That party plays fast and loose with them on every question, and the cry of "Anti-Stewart! Anti-railroadism!" is all bosh, despite what Chantz says of the great anti-monopoly feeling among the Republicans—a great beating of tom-toms to divert the voter from seeing through Republican shallowness.

Take the Republican anti-railroad cry. The State platform is silent on railroads entirely—not one word about the burdens this State has groaned under for years by reason of railroad discrimination. Take again the Washoe county Republican platform. The plank on railroads is so thin a cat walking over it would break it in two.

A POETIC THOUGHT.

Honorable William Woodburn, we would not for the world do you an injustice, and we are not in the habit of charging gentlemen of your moral standing and Statesmen of your surpassing ability with sins of commission or omission which we can not prove, so would you mind telling us whether you really uttered in a speech made in Pickhandle Gulch, near Gardaville some thirty-five years ago, these immortal sentiments which have so often been attributed to you: "Gentlemen, when I die, I want my hide to be tanned and made into drumheads on which may be beat a reveille for the Southern Confederacy!" (Music omitted.)

Bests Running for Office.

Just the thing for Christmas. What? Why yourself or somebody else's self on a silk bankierchief. Stay there? Well I guess so. You can rub them, you can wash them. Do any old thing, but burn them. The picture stays there just the same. Will last as long as the kerchief. You ought to see those elegant Autotypes, Opalatypes and Porcelaines. What are they? Well they only come one in a box. Oh come down to the Riverside Studio and we will show you and tell you all about them.

TWO CHARGES.

The Scandal Factory Still Running.

These Are Exploded and More Called For.

Goaded by the JOURNAL's published statement in yesterday's issue, that the Virginia & Truckee Railroad Combine had lost confidence in their ability to prove one in fifty of their charges against Senator Stewart, having ignominiously failed to do so in the first nine presented, the organ of the Combine after a day's lay off, has returned to its vomituous.

Two more charges, numbered 10 and 11, respectively, with "proofs," appear in the last number of the Carson News. Before proceeding to puncture the wind out of these gauzy fabrications we wish, in all seriousness, to ask if the Master Scandal Monger of the Combine is not becoming slightly incoherent? The fact that the Combine should present the same charge twice is a matter which is far more serious than outwardly appears. Such things indicate mental aberration of a character which should give their friends grave anxiety. Loss of memory is not considered a light and flippant ailment in therapeutics. But on the contrary, when coupled with disordered vision, distempered imagination and political delirium tremens its gravity is something inexplicable.

THE CHARGES.

Charge 10—Senator Stewart endeavors to appropriate honors which belong to the dead. He recently claimed at a public meeting in Dayton and elsewhere, that he had procured the appropriation for the Postoffice building at Carson.

We submit that there is not a real, genuine, common, everyday spiritual or substantial difference, of the nature to appeal to mortals of a lower order than the angels, between this charge and "Charge 2," which follows, other than that what is presented in the first charge is dependent upon hearsay has lost that element of uncertainty when it reappears as "Charge 10."

Charge 2—The News is informed that Senator Stewart in his speech in Dayton made the statement that the establishment of the Government building in Carson City was due to his efforts. The News charges that this is false.

In our reply to the foregoing we denominated it simply a chimera of the Carson City Scandal Factory, and closed with the following:

"Senator Stewart stated in Dayton doubtless what he stated in Reno, that Mr. Cassidy secured the first appropriation for the Carson public building, but that, as is well known, this appropriation fell short of completing the building, and Senator Stewart secured an additional $38,000 to finish it."

And thus is exploded another political nightmare.

CHARGE ELEVEN.

Charge 11—Senator Stewart betrays the trust committed to him by the Legislature. On February 11, 1891, the Legislature of Nevada passed a most unequivocal Joint Resolution instructing our Senators to vote for and support the Nicaragua Canal Bill (Senate Bill No. 4827).

Then follows a number of references to the Congressional Record, not by citations from the text, but by statements of what purports to be there, prepared by the Combine, in whom, it is needless to say, there is no guile.

Here are the alleged "proofs":

Senator Edmunds, in effect, accused Senator Stewart, upon the floor of the Senate, with having offered the amendment for the purpose of killing the bill in the interest of the Pacific railroad—Congressional Record, Volume 22, pp 30074-5.

Here is what Mr. Edmunds actually said:

"Mr. Edmunds. Mr. President, I did not impute to my friend from Nevada a scheme to defeat the bill. I said that the effect of his amendment would be to defeat the bill, and I repeat it, in my humble opinion."

Here is the second "proof":

Senator Stewart acting in the interest of the Central Pacific Railroad, opposed and spoke against the bill in the Senate. He offered an amendment to the bill which in the opinion of Senators Edmunds, Morgan and other Senators, friends of the bill, was intended to kill it.—Congressional Record, Vol 22, p. 374-75.

The only reference in the whole debate (which occurred a few days after the Nevada Legislature passed the Nicaragua resolution and doubtless before it reached him) that the amendment of Senator Stewart might kill the bill, was the one above quoted from Senator Edmunds. Senator Morgan is not reported as having spoken at all.

And now let us see what was the ground covered by this amendment offered by Senator Stewart. It can best be shown by reprinting a portion of the debate:

"Mr. Gray. I should like to ask the Senator from Nevada a question before he takes his seat, as he is more familiar with this bill than I am. What assurance can be given Senators that that $100,000,000, advanced in the way provided in this bill by the United States, will be sufficient to defray the cost of the canal? I have heard it intimated here that if it were built by a private construction company, without governmental guaranty, it would cost something like $400,000,000. How can we assure ourselves that $100,000,000 will build it under the plan suggested? "Mr. Stewart. There is no assurance in the bill, and no way of compelling the company to complete the canal. If this amount fails to build it, the only thing will be that the Government will have expended $100,000,000, and, rather than lose that, the Government will necessarily make further appropriations.

"Before we engage in an enterprise that may cost three or four hundred million dollars, I propose to see that the Government has some guaranty, somebody to superintend the expenditure of this money who is under the control of the Government. * * * I now directly charge that under this bill there is an opportunity for a great swindle, and there are no safeguards for the Government. That $100,000,000 is to be expended by a company without restraint, except that the Government may have the privilege of sending down there to look the work over and report."

Senator Stewart's amendment proposed that inasmuch as the Government was asked to put up all the money to build the canal it should control the expenditure of that money and operate the canal—a wise and patriotic proposition. What has ever defeated the Nicaragua Canal scheme are the gigantic iniquities contained in the proposed plan by which the Government was to supply the money and a ring of New York manipulators control it. Senator Stewart time and again in the Senate has stated that he will support any measure by which the United States may own the canal after building it.

In closing we take exception to the form in which the charge is stated. In opposing the Nicaragua Canal bill, until amended to protect the rights of the people of this country, Senator Stewart did not betray any trust committed to him by the Legislature.

State Legislatures are not always possessed of the discriminating intelligence to judge of the merits of a bill of which there is not one chance in ten thousand that anyone of them ever read or saw. Senator Stewart possessed the courage to do what was right.

ADDENDA.

And we continue to assert that reputations for veracity will be at a premium among the opponents of Senator Stewart before this campaign is over.

VIRGINIA STREET.

JOHN P. JONES.

An Ovation to Him on the Comstock.

HIS INFLUENCE FOR STEWART'S ELECTION.

Nevada Must Remain in the Front of Battle for Silver.

The meeting at Piper's Opera House last evening, says the Virginia Report, was a revelation to those who have been predicting a defeat for the cause of silver in Storey county, and in Nevada. The house was full from door to stage—from pit to dome, and when the speaking had begun at 8 o'clock, standing room was at a premium. The people of the Comstock have heard both Senators Stewart and Jones speak a half-hundred times in the last thirty years. They are well acquainted with the sentiments of both gentlemen on all the important public issues, and yet in these hard times, with a dwindling population and a political off year, the Opera House last night contained as big an audience as ever assembled beneath its roof in the palmy days. The significance of this is apparent. It shows that the tactics of vilification and abuse employed by the V. & T. railroad and its organs are having their natural effect. A reaction has set in and the people, indignant at the vile and groundless assaults upon the venerable man who has grown gray in their service, have arisen in their might to rebuke the shameless indecency of those assailants of their chosen representative.

Hugh Trembath acted as chairman, and after calling the meeting to order introduced the Hon. John P. Jones, who delivered a telling and forcible address. His remarks were listened to with deep attention, and every point he made was emphasized by thundering applause. His speech, reproduced in full, was as follows:

SENATOR JONES' SPEECH.
I come here to extend greetings to my old friends and neighbors of Storey county. I come here more to have a conference with them than to indulge in flights of oratory or to make any argumentary speech on the great questions which now confront the American people. I would rather have the warm reception that I received to-night from the people in whose presence I stand than to have a reception given to me by a crowned head or any monarchy in Europe. [Applause.]

I have always held close to my heart the men with whom I have associated for 31 years in this State and this county—the miners and business men of this community. I must say to you that it made my heart ache to come here and see the smokestacks without any smoke issuing from them, without hearing the rambling of the stamps, to see the hoisting works and the shafts going to decay. It was the most sorrowful sight to me that I ever witnessed, due altogether to the surreptitious Act of 1873, passed at the instigation of the money power of the world and without the knowledge of the American people. Our miners by the thousands would be working 4,000 feet under the ground, with well ventilated stopes and shafts had it not been for that Act, and I congratulate my fellow-citizens now that a contract has been made to take the water out of the mines and go down 400 or 500 feet farther into the earth. I have exerted every influence that I could bring to bear and used every energy that I could to bring about that result. I have every belief that there are great treasures for the people in the Comstock lode, even at the depths that the shafts have already attained. But my fellow-citizens look what the hope would be if we could get the remonetization of silver! Suppose that instead of silver being 60 cents an ounce it was at its constitutional range of $1.29 an ounce! There would be thousands and millions of tons of ore taken out, which would pay a handsome profit. As I said, when I arose, I did not intend to make a speech. My throat is not in a physical condition to do it, and I therefore take up what I conceive to be a very important part of the discussion going on now.

REFERS TO STEWART.
The gentlemen whom the Silver party endorsed for a continuance in the Senate of the United States has been assaulted in prose and poetry in the most disgraceful manner. What charge has been made against him? It is evanescent, diaphanous. We cannot find out what it means, but in a very few words I can say to you that I have served in the Senate of the United States during the whole time since he began his term in 1887, and I can say upon my honor as a man (and I know that the people of this county will believe what I say) there is not a member of the United States Senate that does not have every confidence in the world in Senator Stewart's integrity and uprightness. [Applause.] There is not a member of that body who does not have the greatest respect for his ability. There is not a man in favor of the remonetization of silver in that body who would not be deeply grieved if the people of Nevada do not return him when he ought to be returned. [Applause.]

THE GOLD BRICK PEOPLE.
The gold standard people in the East and the gold brick men here understand what they are doing. They know that the Silver party constitutes two-thirds of the people, but like clever warriors they are trying to divide the Silver forces. It is the duty, in my opinion, of every man who believes in the remonetization of silver and who is interested in the welfare of the State to vote for Senator Stewart in order that the great cause may be subserved. If he should be defeated, it would be defeated. It would be published in the East that the Silver men of Nevada had turned against silver and the question was dead. It would be a most fatal blow. It would be taken up everywhere and it would be the greatest injury to the Silver cause that possibly could be conceived of.

Now, when we are in the sight of victory at the election in 1900, which will be the greatest contest, the most important, the most supremely important contest that ever was urged in the civilized world, Nevada should be in the front rank of battle. It is in my opinion a contest whether the few should rule the many, whether the rich shall become richer and the poor poorer, whether the masses of the common people shall have their share in the prosperity of the world.

That is the issue, and I cannot conceive of a worse blow that can be struck than now at this time to withdraw the Senator, who has always upheld the flag and fought valiantly in the people's cause. I may say further that in all the varied interests of Nevada, no matter what they were, he has watched them closely—I may say that I never saw him neglect any of his duties. I, as his colleague, knowing that it is my duty to say to the people of this country and through this meeting to the people of Nevada that they never could have a more faithful representative than Wm. M. Stewart in the Senate.

WHO IS THEIR CANDIDATE?
But whom do our opponents offer? Have not the people of this State some right to say whom they want to elect to the high office of Senator of the United States Senate? Have the people of this State no right to a choice? Let me ask the leading Republican papers who their candidate is, who have they named, whom do they want to send to the Senate? Is this a secret dodge to elect some members of the Legislature on the strength of the opposition to Stewart and then come in and elect a Senator without consultation with the people? If this was an honest deal they would come out and name their man. Have they named anybody? I have not heard of him. They do not dare to name the man, and the people in this State have a right to know who is to represent them in Washington.

Now I cannot imagine, as I said before, a worse blow that could be struck the silver cause than the defeat at this time of Senator Stewart for re-election to his seat. It would be published by all the gold standard papers in the East that the silver cause was dying, and I know many friends of silver would be greatly discouraged.

I believe, fellow citizens, that there will be another great contest on this question, and I believe we can win in 1900 if no backward steps are taken now.

In traveling through the East I never found a silver man who was tired of the silver cause—not one.

I believe that William Jennings Bryan will be endorsed unanimously by the convention in 1900, and that there will be no opposition. [Applause.]

TARIFF LEGISLATION.
I have been a member of the finance committee for about 24 years, and when the tariff bill was before it I found that the bill was made up of high schedules on everything raised and produced in the East, and as the West was approached there was no protection at all. There were six Democrats and six Republicans and myself on that committee. My vote made the seventh vote either for or against the bill. I have always been a protectionist, and I have always believed that it was the duty of a country to develop and foster its industries and protect its laborers from alien competition by high tariffs. When the bill was under consideration I was urged by the committee from one side or another to vote for this and oppose that. I said I was a protectionist; that I would not discuss the tariff question as to whether it was a wrong or a benefit. I have my own opinion, but will not discuss it in this committee. If it is a wrong Nevada and the Western States insist upon getting their share of the plunder; if it is a benefit we insist upon participating. That is all there is of it. Hence, there was put on the bill everything that I could think of which is produced in this State—duties on wool, hides, lead, cattle, borax, fruits—all went through. My colleague did everything he could to assist in bringing about the result.

CHARGES AGAINST STEWART.
I do not know of a single explicit charge that has been made against Senator Stewart. In fact they are diaphanous. They consist of dubious language without stating anything. When they talk about railroad charges I laugh. I came here before the railroad was built. If you could have such times as you had when silver was $1.29 an ounce and all the miners had work on the lode, we could afford to bring everything in on mules and have money in our pocket. There is no difficulty about fares and freights when we have the mines in operation.

Fellow-citizens, I have noticed all the tickets nominated. Do the people of Nevada desire to support a ticket named by a mere committee or named by the individuals themselves? or do they want to support a ticket named by a convention elected by the people and which convention passed a resolution which declares their desire regarding who shall be Senator? Do the people of Nevada want to vote for a man who is not committed to any party or to any policy? I do not believe they do. Even if I had a personal enemy on a ticket nominated by the people in convention assembled, I would vote for him if he would best subserve the silver cause. [Applause.]

My friends, your votes ought to be cast unanimously for the Silver ticket, which is pledged to return Senator Stewart to the Senate as my colleague. Nothing would delight me more than to see this grand object accomplished, and if you will do it the silver cause will be strengthened throughout the United States, and add a hundred fold to the chances of securing the consummation of the work started by the Silver party of Nevada in 1892—the free coinage of silver—in 1900.

A CARD.
Dr. Stubbs Corrects a False Impression.
EDITOR JOURNAL: Dear Sir:—Hon. H. C. Outting advises me of a report current to the effect that the concessions made to teachers in this State by the Southern Pacific Co., was due not to Mr. Outting's efforts but to mine. In justice to Mr. Outting, permit me to say, that I had nothing whatever to do with this matter and that Superintendent Outting is entitled to the credit for thinking of the interests of the teachers in this regard and for securing the half rates from the General Passenger Department of the Southern Pacific Co. Very Respectfully,
J. E. STUBBS.

"The Comet."
This is the name of the new publication issued by the senior class of the Reno High School. It is a neat school paper of twelve pages including cover, the latter having on the title page a cut representing the name, also a half-tone picture of the High School building. Miss Jennie Riley is editor-in-chief and she is aided by a large corps of assistants, staff artists and the usual business manager and board of directors. The paper is well edited and is full of good readable matter and its advertising columns show that our business men have taken a substantial interest in its success.

The "Gazette" Called Down.
EDITOR STATE JOURNAL:—There appeared in the Reno Gazette of October 25th the following statement: "It has undoubtedly slipped Governor Sadler's mind that he appointed a nephew living in San Francisco a Lieutenant on his staff." Will you kindly publish the following as the true statement of the facts. I was at the time of my appointment and at the present time am a resident and voter of Ormsby county, State of Nevada, and voted in Carson City last election.
